

Inclusion Policy

1. Rationale

It is the belief at Aitken College that all students have a right to an inclusive education. Inclusion is an ongoing process as the College aims to continually review and increase access and engagement in learning for all students by identifying and removing barriers. This can only be successfully achieved in a culture of collaboration, mutual respect, support and problem-solving. The College embraces the diversity of learners and reasonable adjustments will be made to ensure all students at the College will have opportunities to access the curriculum and achieve educational outcomes without discrimination.

2. Definitions and Elaborations

Reasonable Adjustments

Aitken College will provide reasonable adjustments upon consultation with the prospective student and their parents/carers to assist the student in undertaking the education offered.

Whether an adjustment is reasonable will depend on balancing the student's learning needs with the interests of all parties affected, including those of the student, the College, staff and other students. Depending on the needs of the student, adjustments may include modifications to College facilities, procedures and resources.

Modifications to enable student access to College facilities and participate in everyday College life include adjustments to toilets, ramps, safety railings, the gymnasium, computer rooms and laboratories to ensure students with disabilities can access these facilities safely.

All processes for adjustments within the College, including review and grievance procedures, will be transparent. All decisions will be made in a timely way that optimises the student's participation in education and training.

Unjustifiable hardship is determined via an individual assessment of the prospective student's needs balanced with the costs associated with additional staffing, the provision of special resources or modifications and health and safety and duty of care requirements.

Discrimination, Harassment & Victimisation

Aitken College does not tolerate discrimination, harassment and victimisation of any type including disability discrimination. This is achieved by:

- Informing all staff and students that all students at Aitken College have a right to an inclusive education and disability discrimination is not acceptable;
- Providing information and training concerning inclusive and non-discriminatory methods of teaching;
- Ensuring staff and students are aware of appropriate actions to be taken if harassment or victimisation occurs;

- Establishing strategies and programs to prevent harassment and victimisation of members of the College community, particularly those with a disability, diverse learning needs or are members of minority groups; and
- Ensuring strategies and programs extend to not only students but also to their parents/carers, who may experience discrimination as a result of their support role to a student or who may have a disability, diverse needs or are members of minority groups themselves.

'Same Basis' Opportunities

The fundamental concept in operation at Aitken College to prevent discrimination is the 'same basis' concept. This means treatment of students with a disability must be on the 'same basis' as students without a disability when presented with opportunities and choices offered to students without disabilities.

3. Responsibility

Responsibility of School Leadership

It is the responsibility of school leadership members to:

5. Personalised Learning Plans

Personalised Learning Plans (PLPs) are developed for students with learning difficulties and disabilities where the needs of the student is greater than standard classroom differentiation. The plans contain information to support the student's inclusion and achievement in school. Learning Centre staff, school leadership team members and classroom teachers work closely with parents and parents to ensure an appropriate curriculum is available through personalised goals and adjustments. These adjustments may be to the curriculum, the environment, or the teaching instruction. PLPs are monitored on an on-going basis and are formally reviewed at least twice a year. Information about learning and wellbeing needs is provided to teaching staff, via meetings, AIMS (the school's Learning Management System), handover notes, data and meetings, individual student meetings if required and in writing.

6. Confidentiality

Information obtained in relation to the student's disability will remain confidential and will only be disclosed for the purposes of making adjustments or in accordance with a lawful requirement.

7. Complaints

Complaints of unlawful discrimination should be made to the College. Complaints will be properly and effectively dealt with using the College's complaint procedures
